Profile

A passion and dedication for helping others inspired Crystallis Chang to become a lawyer. She is particularly dedicated to serving as a voice for the under-represented in the area of injury law and focuses her practice on handling accident and premises liability claims.

Crystallis works diligently to make sure clients are fully compensated and particularly wants clients to understand they can seek compensation despite their immigration status. Often in pain and financial distress, clients need accurate information and a resourceful, compassionate advocate. Crystallis takes great pride in providing both, often resulting in clients who “receive the compensation they once thought would be impossible.”

Determined to clearly explain the law, dispel misconceptions about pursuing claims, and guide her clients painlessly through their cases, Crystallis is efficient, thorough, and communicative.
