Profile

Vicki Christian knows that in order to be an effective advocate for her clients she needs to understand the big picture of their business so that she can provide the best guidance to fit their long-term goals. This requires listening carefully to her clients and understanding their unique circumstances. Vicki prides herself on developing longstanding relationships with her clients. Vicki focuses her practice on real estate acquisition, development, financing, business transactions and commercial leasing.

Her experience in commercial lending and real estate as well as with forming and maintaining business entities, coupled with her meticulous attention to detail ensures optimal results for her clients.

Prior to joining Stein Sperling Vicki worked for a law firm and a commercial finance conglomerate, where she was immersed in commercial lending, leasing and franchise and real estate transactions.
